on importance of voting

Dear Members of Anash,

The Jewish Future Alliance advocates strongly for our community's interests. Recently, we've focused on highlighting the importance of voting, resulting in a significant increase in voter turnout and registration within our community.

In the upcoming years, crucial elections will take place at the city, state, and federal levels. Voting isn't merely a civic duty; it's our way of amplifying our voices and effecting change. Already, pressing issues such as Yeshiva education, public safety, housing, and small businesses are at stake. The events of October 7th and the alarming rise in anti-Semitism remind us of the urgent need for strong representation in government.

The Rebbe always encouraged Anash to vote and reportedly was a registered Democrat who regularly voted by absentee ballot.

Right now, there are at least 5,000 unregistered voters in Crown Heights and many more who don't vote regularly. This is a missed opportunity when every vote matters, as you will see in our report.

Let's work together, united, to safeguard our community and New York by ensuring that every community member is registered to vote.

Please also consider supporting these efforts with a tax-deductible donation.

Sincerely,

● Rabbi Yaacov Behrman

Increase in voter turnout

Comparison of Mayoral Primary Voting from 2013 and 2021

In 2021, Anash voter turnout increased by 200% among those registered in 2013. When we include newly registered voters, the increase surpassed 400%

Eric Adams won the 2021 mayoral primary in the final round with 404,513 votes, beating Kathryn Garcia, who had 397,316 votes. Adams had only 7,197 more votes than Garcia.

Buses in 2021 raised awareness and took people to vote.

We gather our information from public records and match it with Anash residents, continually updating our database. Our private database displays Anash voting history, party affiliation, and contact information

We are working with a sophisticated platform that can help us look at data.

Our program enables us to map Anash voters based on voting records, name, registration, party affiliation, age, and addresses, and to create turfs to assist with the Get Out the Vote (GOTV) effort.
